Dr. Gildersleeve, of Richmond, is in Tazewell on his regular summer visit.

In case the water should have to be cut off at any time for repairs to the system, you will be notified by three long blows of the laundry whistle.

LOST WATCH.—Open face, silver watch, Waltham movement, short piece of raw hide attached. Lost on Monday morning between residence of A. J. Steele and the Tazewell Mill. Finder will be suitably rewarded if returned to News office or owner. GRAT RUBLE.

Edward Yost and Miss Nannie Hager, of Unaka, were married by Rev. S. O. Hall at the manse Sunday morning.

Mrs. Geo. E. Mahood, formerly of Burke's Garden, died at her home in Graham last week after a lingering illness. Mrs. Mahood was a Miss Woods, of near Gratton before her marriage.

There seems to have been a good deal of rain in Eastern Virginia this season. We should have had it up in this section where things grow. You can't raise anything in East Virginia anyway, except rabbits.

Wanted to buy poplar and lard wood. Write us for specifications. Bluestone Mattress and Pillow Company, Graham, Va.

New books at Jackson's: "The Miller of Old Church," by Ellen Glasgow; The "Long Roll," by Mary Johnston.

Rev. J. Stuart French, of Nashville, Tenn., a former pastor of the Methodist church at Tazewell, preached the annual sermon before the student body of Emory and Henry College last Sunday.

Bane Higginbotham and family, of Florida, have returned to Virginia to spend the summer. They will spend a good part of the summer at the springs near Tip Top.

Mrs. A. B. Buchanan left Wednesday night for Richmond to enter the Johnson-Willis hospital for treatment. She was accompanied by Mr. Buchanan.

I either left my umbrella somewhere or someone borrowed it. In either event please tell me about it; my initials are on the gold band and has a white handle. H. W. POBST.

Miss Bertha Scott and Miss Sadie McGuire, two pretty young ladies from Cedar Bluff, were here on Tuesday, and brightened up this office by a pleasant visit. The young ladies say that Cedar Bluff is glad the Sunday school convention is coming, and will give it a royal welcome.

Joseph Cregar, of Thompson Valley, had the misfortune to lose his right eye last week by getting a small piece of steel imbedded in the ball. He went to Bluefield and consulted Dr. Thomas E. Peery, who advised the removal of the eye at once, which was done. Mr. Cregar's misfortune is regretted by his numerous friends in the county.

The tent, purchased by the Presbyterians, in which to hold religious services and which has been used here during two summers, has been erected again. It is planned to have, during this summer, a prayer meeting every Thursday night and a preaching service every Sunday night. All denominations are asked to co-operate.

To the voters of Madison Spring district: I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace and respectfully solicit your support in the election to be held November 7, 1911. JOHN S. HORTON.

The weather is fine for the Methodist conference now in session, although the supply of spring chickens is short the brethren will be fed. If it were a Baptist meeting we might hope for "copious showers," but a little sprinkling even, will be very acceptable, if we can't do any better. The explosion of so many "big guns" along with the "small arms," may have an effect, and bring a downpour.

Tazewell has caught the automobile fever. The latest seen on the streets is a fine forty horse power machine, purchased by R. C. Chapman. Tazewell will keep pace with the onward march of progress. Good roads means autos. After a while the farmers will be using them. The automobile people could well afford to contribute large sums to the road fund.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Perley jr. of Honaker; Mrs. Hays of Denver and Mrs. Hippie of Pennsylvania the two latter the guests of Mrs. Perley were in Tazewell yesterday and spent the day in Burke's Garden. They were guests Wednesday night at dinner at the home of Mrs. Barnes Gillespie.

Mrs. S. O. Hall and two of the little Halls are to be congratulated. They are in Botetourt on a visit to the old home near Fincastle where Mrs. Hall's father Rev. Mr. Houston and her sisters live. Botetourt weather seldom if ever, misbehaves. Now watch it act on its p's and q's while this good Tazewell lady is in its midst.

The sale of the personal estate of the late Rev. William Kelly occurred at the Kelly farm east of town Saturday. A division of the large farm, containing about one thousand acres will soon be made. There are six heirs to the estate, including the five children and one grand child.

Attorneys S. C. Graham, A. P. Gillespie, J. P. Royall, and perhaps others, were of Tazewell's lawyers, were in Wytheville this week attending the sessions of the Supreme Court.

W. H. Daniels, son of the late John W. Daniels, of Horsepen Cove, was in Tazewell the guest of friends this week. Mr. Daniels is a student in the University of Virginia.

Mrs. Chapman H. Peery, of Cedar Bluff, and Mrs. Sam Ward, of Wardell, passed through town the first of the week enroute to Abingdon and Bristol, for an extended visit to relatives.

Herbert Ward, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Ward has gone to his grandmother at Chatham Hill, Smyth county, for an indefinite stay. In order to tantalize his father Herbert sends word back that grandma has several very fine hares, one on the table right now with only two slices missing. A little more of this and it will be, Jeff for Chatham Hill.

Mr. James Ed. Peery was painfully injured at his home near town on Wednesday evening, while experimenting with a young horse. It is thought that the gentleman was kicked by the horse, and knocked backwards, his head striking a rock, which caused him to become unconscious for several minutes. A doctor hurriedly summoned, soon revived him, and he is all right now.

P. F. Howell, of Greever's harness store, with his family, are at their home in Floyd county, spending a summer's vacation.

Grayden Patty is among the number of young preachers here at the conference. Mr. Patty will put in the summer at Castlewood.

Miss Laura Gildersleeve has joined a party of young folks, who are on a visit to New York City.

Dr. D. C. Gillespie, of Cornell, is at home for the summer.

Preaching in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Childrens Shoes

The childrens shoe section in this store has a comprehensive assortment of scientifically correct shoes for growing feet—an item most important to mothers who appreciate the importance of orthopaedic knowledge and desire that their small boys and girls shall profit by it. Chapman's, Tazewell, Va.

There will be special Sunday school services at Springville next Sunday morning, the 18th, and also in the afternoon, we suppose. The neighboring schools are invited to take part in this meeting. The editor of this paper, secretary of the County Association, expects to be present, to make "a few feeble remarks" about the work in the county, and hopes to meet many of the good workers of that community. An enjoyable and profitable day is expected, and there will be a large crowd present.

The visit of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Barnes to their old home and friends in Tazewell was a great delight all around. Everybody, except he be an "unfortunate reprobate," loves the old home, and seeks every good opportunity to "come back." Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are now living in Georgetown, Ky., having moved from Paris the first of the month. They still own the bulk of their property in Paris, and Mr. Barnes has opened, and is now operating a successful meat store in Georgetown. They ended their visit here on Tuesday, much to the regret of their friends and relatives.

William Walk, who recently sustained serious injury to his leg by falling from a building at Graham, has left the hospital in Bluefield, and is the guest of his sister here, Mrs. V. L. Stephenson.

The many friends of Mrs. A. B. Buchanan will regret to know that she has been compelled to return to the hospital in Richmond for treatment. Since her return from Richmond a month ago, where she underwent treatment, her health has not improved as indications led her family to hope, and her return was considered necessary. She left on Wednesday.

Mr. W. O. Whitman, of Airmont, Va., who recently moved to that place from Tazewell, is here this week the guest of relatives and friends. Mr. Whitman and his family are becoming adapted to the change from Tazewell hospitality, etc., to the hospitality and climate of the Shenandoah, and are much pleased with their fine farm. He has about forty acres in corn, several acres in wheat, and says his corn is better than any he has yet seen in Tazewell. Mr. Whitman will return the last of the week.

Mrs. J. Powell Royall's three children have the whooping cough and have required a great deal of care and attention. Miss Rachel and Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Royall's sister and mother, are with her, and of course, the children will get on well with such nursing. If all the "kids" on Tazewell avenue have the whooping cough along about the same time, there'll be "music in the air," day and night.

The three year old child of Mr. Wright, the operator at the depot, had a narrow escape from death a few days ago, by poisoning. The little fellow got hold of two bottles, one containing laudanum, and another containing some other poison, and drank a part of both. Physicians had hard work saving the little fellow's life. He is now about well.

G. S. Alley, who has been in Arizona for several months for his health, returned to his home near Cedar Bluff. Mr. Alley thinks he has been benefitted some by the high, dry climate of the northwest. He was in on the border during several of the skirmishes and fights between the Mexicans and the insurgents, and was present when young Edwards, the Roanoke boy was killed.

Burke's Garden

Burke's Garden, June 15.—On last Sunday morning the ladies and children of the Lutheran church held special missionary exercises at Central Church.

Mr. James Peery is doing good work as Superintendent of the Chapel Sunday School, which convenes about 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoons.

George Kelly, David Crockett and Eugene Peery are home from their respective institutions of learning: Old Point Comfort College, Richmond Academy and Roanoke College.

Mr. J. P. Gose and three sons are spending a few days in Roanoke and Salem.

Mrs. J. R. Meek and son have returned from Hollins and Blacksburg commencements. Miss Dora Neta Meek is still visiting in Blacksburg, having remained to attend the marriage of a friend.

Miss Mary Moss was hostess at a dinner party a few days ago.

Miss Garnet Lawson reached home from Wytheville on last Friday.

Miss Nellie Kelly entertained a few friends Saturday night.

Mrs. Attelia Crockett, with two children, Annis and John, spent the week end in Bluefield.

Mrs. F. M. Moss, who has been in the Cove for sometime, came home Monday.

Misses Margaret and Emma Greever are spending a while at Craig Healing Springs. Miss Ida Greever is at home from Cloumbia, S. C.

A party of happy young folks spent Tuesday in the Garden leaving good cheer in their wake.

Miss Myrtle Rosenbaum is here on a visit to her one time neighbors and friends.

S. E. Rosenbaum is attending to his farm this week.

Messrs. R. S. and W. H. Moss are busy looking after the sheep market. Mr. T. E. Howell sold a beautiful flock of lambs and others are being weighed today.

Princeton, W. Va., has recently established a weekly newspaper. In the issue of June the first this paragraph appeared: "The Princeton Progress is an infant—adopt her and watch her grow."

The above mentioned paper stated that "The Bluefield Aviation Meet turned out to be the 'Bluefield Aviation Cheat.'"
